

June 11, 2014

Dear Tribal Leader:

The National Indian Gaming Commission will move its Washington, DC headquarters on June 23, 2014 to 90 K Street, N.E., Suite 200, Washington, D.C. 20002. The new location is a state of the art, secure facility, located near the US Capitol and Union Station. The current office, located at 1441 L Street, N.W., Suite 9100, will close on Thursday, June 19, 2014 at the conclusion of business. All existing NIGC phone numbers will not be affected.

The relocation of the Commission's Washington, DC headquarters has been a part of the Agency's long-term strategic plan. The new facility will allow the NIGC to provide better services to the tribes and others within the industry by adopting new technology and utilizing space more efficiently. To ensure a smooth transition to our updated server environment all systems will be brought down June 20, 2014 and moved to the new location. This means we will not be able to accept any electronic communications including at all the Regional offices until June 23, 2014. There will be no additional interruptions at the Regional offices with the DC headquarters move.

To help minimize disruptions in Agency services during the move, the Commission requests that all submissions and requests to headquarters be made no later than Wednesday June 18, 2014 at the current location. All submissions and requests can be submitted and received by the agency at the new location beginning June 23, 2014.
