

National Indian Gaming Commission Training Announcement

NIGC.GOV

Event: Critical Events Response & Preparedness - Cyber-attacks:

Date/Time: March 3, 2022, @ 2pm (EST)

The National Indian Gaming Commission is pleased to announce our March National Training Topic of the Month.

On March 3, 2022, we invite you to attend “Critical Events Response & Preparedness - Cyber-attacks”. A one-hour panel discussion with the Division of Technology. This session is relevant to both regulatory and operations staff alike. NIGC highly encourages Tribal Gaming Regulators and Casino Operations staff to take advantage of the ability to attend this course.

Course Description:

Critical Events Response & Preparedness - Cyber-attacks: As part of the NIGCs ongoing drive to increase IT security awareness, in this course we will examine recent cyber-attacks within the tribal gaming industry. By utilizing these real-world examples, we will discuss how the victims could have prevented the attacks. Also, we will cover ways to resolve possible lapses in compliance, and explore policies and procedures that tribal regulators and operators could employ to bolster defenses and reduce risk to tribal assets

Click on this link to register for this course:

https://www.zoomgov.com/webinar/register/WN_Z_fcZ486T0elAKFCHN8FcQ

The NIGC is committed to providing an exceptional experience for continued learning and information sharing. The courses will be presented through ZOOM. Once registered for a presentation, you will receive a link to enter the course. If you have any questions or need assistance registering for this training, please contact NIGC Training at traininginfo@nigc.gov